Electronic communications are pervasive. We interact with opposing counsel, the court, clients, family, and friends via text, emails, smartphones, and social media. Some use artificial intelligence such as ChatGPT to help refine ideas, summarize issues, and create starting points for discussions. But we're all careful with what we do when clients and courts are involved, right? Wait—are you sure that the answers to these questions are as clear cut as it seems? Back by popular demand, nationally-known speaker Mike Rubin will challenge your thinking, raise issues to ponder, and give you something to smile about.

Michael Rubin, McGlinchey Stafford, PLLC

Dismissal – Michael J. Bentley - President of the Bar Association of the Fifth Federal Circuit.
